DISCOURSE.

PSALM 77 : 10.—"I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High."

Who that is disposed to call these years to remembrance can ever be in want of pleasant and of profitable thought? The years of the right hand of God are the years of his favor and his blessing. To recall them is to summon to our aid reflections which will lift us up, as they did the Psalmist, amid adversity and sorrow, or inspire us with new zeal and confidence amid labors prosperous and successful.

And how rapidly these years are being numbered! Such is the spontaneous thought which comes to the minds of many of you to-day. Every nook and corner of this house reminds you of scenes which now start up in the freshness of the living present; and it appears almost incredible that more than a quarter of a century has passed away since they were enacted. It is amazing that two years have gone since I first stood in this place to address you as your pastor. The twelve months, which come immediately in review to-day, have glided by almost unmeasured. Our relations and our labors have lifted us above all weariness or impatience. Not a jar has there been in our harmony; not a drawback to our prosperity. The fidelity with which you still rally around me is grateful to my feelings; but this is only what I had reason to expect. It would scarcely have been possible for you to call me from my charming rural home, where the green grass and flowers are now appearing, where spring birds are singing, and, best of all, where, at this moment, a hundred recent converts are rejoicing, and then in two short years desert me! No, this could not be. I have found you faithful and true, and this has cheered me in my labors.

During the early part of the year a threatening cloud hung over us. Sickness had seized upon my family, causing us much alarm, and then I was myself laid aside by the rigor of the climate. For a time, I feared I would be compelled to seek a home elsewhere; but now, I trust, we have become so well acclimated that such a change will not be necessary.

As we look over the year just closed, I think we can see, on every hand, the marks of progress and efficiency. Our Sabbath congregation has been larger than it was the first year I was with you; our social meetings, at least for a part of the time, have been larger and more efficient, and the Sabbath-school has never been more prosperous. The finances of the society, through the skillful management of the new Treasurer, are in most admirable condition. The income from the pews for the past year was $3,250. Only three times in the history of the society have the annual receipts from this source been so much. Those three years were immediately after the great revival of 1858, when all our congregations were largely increased. The receipts from the pews during the last year have been about $275 more than for the year previous. This additional sum has been raised without increasing, in any instance, the rates of taxation. While other churches, Protestant and Catholic, have advanced the price of sittings, we have not, and I believe do not propose to. There are few, if any, churches in Boston where equal accommodations are furnished at so low a figure. To meet increased expenses, we shall depend on an increased number of seat-holders, and on the liberality and promptness of your payments.

I will take this occasion to thank you for the recent considerate vote by which my salary has been advanced to $2500. This is $500 more than you promised, when I came—$500 more than you have given any former pastor. I think, however, I shall be able to use the whole of it to good advantage!

In addition to the pew taxes, we have raised by subscription during the last year between $1700 and $1800, part of which has been paid toward the current expenses, and part toward the church edifice debt. This makes an aggregate of about $5000 raised during the year for home expenses. Your benevolence, too, continues to flow in a generous channel. You have contributed to twelve or fourteen different objects, in sums varying from $20 to $300, making an aggregate of a little more than $2000. This does not take account of private contributions by individuals, which would swell the sum to many hundred dollars more. The footing up of our financial sheet shows, therefore, not less than $7000 raised for the cause of Christ, at home and abroad, within the year.

The details of my own work have been eighty-three sermons preached, and not less than a hundred meetings for prayer and conference attended. I have officiated at ten marriages and nineteen funerals. Fourteen persons have been baptized into the fellowship of the church, nine have been received by letter, and three by experience. Eleven have been dismissed, the names of three have been erased, and nine have died. The increase, therefore, has been twenty-six, and the decrease twenty-five. So far as I know your residences, I have called on every family which is in regular attendance here. These calls have required no small part of my time, and have been a little more than five hundred in number.

The year has not been marked, as we hoped it would be, with a general revival of religion. At times we have seen the rising cloud, and were full of hope. Almost the whole heavens have given promise of the coming rain. But then the cloud has lifted and dispersed, and we are left to wait. Sometimes I have been asked if I am not discouraged? I answer, No! Why should any man be discouraged while laboring for God? Duty is ours; results are his! I am, however, sometimes distressed lest I be found unfaithful. I have tried to do my duty—to speak the truth as God requires it, and as you need it. But why, oh, why, I ask, is it so powerless? If the fault is mine, God help me to amend; if it is yours, God help you, my friends. But we are not left to-day entirely to lamentation. The clouds that gathered in the heavens have not burst upon us, but they have let a few drops fall. We have assurance that God has not forgotten his heritage, and the prayer of faith will ere long bring the shower of grace. We can trace his beneficence in all the way through which he has been leading us; and the past year adds another to those in which he has displayed for us the right hand of his power.

A wider survey, which shall take in the whole history of this church, will enable us to discover, at every point, the Divine goodness. I should have asked you to take this survey a year ago, when the first quarter of a century closed; but, as you know, domestic affliction then prevented. You are not unwilling, I am sure, to call to remembrance, to-day, "the years of the right hand of the Most High."

1. Thus you may remember God's mercy as manifested in the Origin of this church. No one, who studies the facts, can doubt, I think, that the Divine hand led to the commencement of this enterprise. The persons who undertook it had no ambitious purposes to serve; no uncomfortable relations to escape; no old church grievances to be redressed. They had enjoyed the most delightful fellowship in the bodies with which they had been previously connected, and had been under the pastoral care and pulpit ministrations of men of rare ability. It was a sense of obligation to Christ that led to the new undertaking. The men who were foremost in it assumed weighty responsibilities, and imposed on themselves heavy burdens. The sacrifices which they made and the labors which they performed cannot be appreciated except by those who have passed through a similar experience.

The importance of establishing a new Baptist Church in what was then the south part of the city, had long been agitated. The first meeting which led to practical and permanent results in this direction, was held on Wednesday evening, September 6th, 1838, at the house of Mr. John F. Edwards, in Bedford Street. Only seven persons were present. Four of these were from the Charles St. Church, viz., Horace A. Breed, William Keith, Charles T. Hildreth, and Luther Horr. The remaining three, viz., Ephraim Wood, John Hunt, and John F. Edwards, were from the church in Federal Street. After full and free conference and earnest prayer, these brethren consecrated themselves and their means to the work. They made generous pledges towards the enterprise, and formed themselves into a committee to solicit the aid of others. In October a room was hired in the Boylston Market building, and a prayer meeting was established on Wednesday and Sabbath evenings. This was continued till the first Sabbath in January, 1839, when preaching was commenced in the large hall of the same building. The first sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Malcom, and the second by Rev. Dr. Sharp.

No definite measures had yet been taken to organize a church. The previously existing churches had, however, been consulted, and had most cordially approved the movement. Scarcely a step appears to have been taken without asking advice of these older bodies. The object was not to establish a rival interest, but to add another to the fraternity of churches. The records still exist of many meetings which the brethren of the new interest held with committees sent by the churches already in existence. At the first of these meetings Dr. Malcom, late pastor of the Federal Street Church, acted an important part; and when preaching was established, he was made Chairman of the first committee to supply the pulpit. When the time had come to organize a church, a Council was invited to advise on the subject, before the organization was effected, and not to ratify the action afterwards, as is usually the case. That Council met in what was called the vestry of Boylston Hall, on the afternoon of Thursday, March 21st, 1839. Thus did the church, in the outset, obtain a place, which I trust it still retains, in the warm affections of the churches around it.

The public services of recognition were held in Boylston Hall on Wednesday evening, March 27th. The church was then called "The Boylston Street Church." It continued to meet in its first place of worship for one year, when it removed to the Melodeon. There it remained until this house was occupied, a period of nearly three years.

The corner-stone of this edifice was laid on Saturday morning, June 18th, 1842. The house was dedicated on Thursday evening, December 8th, of the same year. The sermon was by the Pastor, Dr. Turnbull. The size of the building is 93 by 68 feet. It contains 175 pews, and will seat about 1000 persons.

In 1840, this was the new part of the city. There were then scarcely any buildings east of this, and but few to the south along the avenue. The "South Cove" was just being filled in, and the tide still flowed almost to the rear of the church. Dwellings were leaping up where the water had till lately been, and the church was congratulated on its location in the midst of a rapidly increasing population.

Boston at that time contained 85,000 inhabitants. It now, probably, has 185,000. It then had seven Baptist Churches—the First, Second, Independent African, Charles Street, Federal Street, South, and the North Church, a feeble

DEDICATION

HARVARD STREET CHURCH,

On Thursday Evening, Dec. 8, 1842.

CHANT.

I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.

Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.

Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together:

Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.

For there are set thrones of judgment, the thrones of the house of David.

Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.

For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.

Because of the house of the Lord our God I will seek thy good.

INVOCATION.

SINGING.

Daughter of Zion! awake from thy sadness,
Awake, for thy foes shall oppress thee no more;
Bright o'er thy hills dawns the day-star of gladness,
Arise! for the night of thy sorrow is o'er.

Strong were thy foes, but the arm that subdu'd them
And scatter'd their legions, were mightier far;
They fled like the chaff from the scourge that pursued them;
Vain were their steeds and their chariots of war.

Daughter of Zion! the power that hath saved thee,
Extoll'd with the harp and the timbrel should be;
Shout! for the foe is destroy'd that enslav'd thee,
Th' oppressor is vanquish'd and Zion is free.

PRAYER OF DEDICATION,

BY REV. DR. SHARP.

ORIGINAL HYMN,

BY A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH.

Come Thou, in heaven adored!
Thou high, Eternal Word,
Unseen, yet infinite,
The source of life and light;
Come, with thy Spirit, fill the place,
And shed on all thy heavenly grace.

Here faithful hearts are met,
The covenant ark to set;
Here where, not long ago,
Old ocean had its flow,
We give our temple, Lord, to thee,—
We breathe our vow, and bend the knee.

Come, Spirit of all grace,
Thy wondrous power we trace
Through all our history past,
Our hope and strength at last,—
With sacred influence here descend,
And every heart in union blend.

The wandering to their home,
In love constrain to come,
Whisper to mourners peace,
Bidding earth's sorrows cease;
Convert, renew and sanctify,
And heavenly grace O still supply. ELIZA.

SERMON BY THE PASTOR,

REV. R. TURNBULL.

ORIGINAL HYMN.

BY H. S. W.

Almighty God!—Thy constant care
Hath been our sure support and stay,
And hither gladly we repair,
Our early sacrifice to pay.

Accept our vows—in humble trust
This house we consecrate to THEE;
O, may thy promise to the just
Forever, Lord, our portion be.

And may that stream which maketh glad
The city of our God below,
Revive the drooping, cheer the sad,
As still its healing waters flow.

So let thy people here enjoy
The blessings which thy grace hath given,
That they may hail, with purer joy,
The unknown, unseen bliss of heaven.

BENEDICTION.

body, which has since been disbanded. These seven churches numbered 2,346 members. We have now fourteen Baptist Churches, with 4,325 members. Thus it will be seen that while the number of our churches has, within the last twenty-five years, been doubled, and the number of our members has been almost doubled, our increase has not kept pace with the increase of the city, whose population has a little more than doubled. The difference, however, is far less than is usually represented; and if allowance be made for Catholic foreigners, the proportionate increase of the Baptist denomination will be found much greater than that of the city's Protestant population.

We have reason to lament that the progress has not been more rapid; but we have occasion for gratitude, also, in regard to what has been done. For the part which this church has accomplished in the aggressive work, as we walk round to-day and view its foundation stones, let us give to God's right hand the praise which is its due.

2. The Financial Success of this enterprise should be gratefully remembered, too. A generous liberality has marked every movement from that first meeting in Bedford Street. The seven gentlemen who were present there pledged themselves to give $500 toward the support of preaching. In two weeks they met again, bringing others with them, when the amount was swollen to $800. In two weeks more they met a third time, when they had raised $1200. They then hired Boylston Hall, at an expense of $400. As their numbers increased and their means were enlarged, they obtained the Melodeon, at an annual rental of $1000. This house was erected and furnished at an expense of $30,000. The land cost about $10,000 additional. When the building was first occupied there remained upon it a debt of at least $20,000. Slowly has this debt been diminished, till now we have but $3000 remaining. For interest, current expenses, and repairs, about $95,000 have been raised. The benevolent contributions of the church and congregation cannot at present be positively stated. We have sufficient data, however, to be safe in saying that they exceed $40,000. This will make an aggregate of not less than $175,000 raised in the twenty-six years—an average of a little more than $6,700 for each year. Who in the outset would have predicted such results? And now that they are seen, how can you, brethren, with other than grateful hearts, call to remembrance "the years of the right hand of the Most High?"

3. So, too, you should remember God's mercy in providing for you Pastors. The ministry is one of Christ's ascension gifts, and whatever benefit you have derived from it you owe to Him. You have never, I believe, been a people of "itching ears;" you have not, during a vacancy in the pastoral office, sought to have a large number of candidates from which to choose; and in only one instance have you ever called a minister to your pulpit who has declined the invitation.

The first pastor whom you chose was Rev. Robert Turnbull, who came from Hartford, and commenced his labors here about five months after your organization. The services connected with his public recognition were held in the Charles Street Church, on Lord's Day evening, August 25th, 1839. Rev. Dr. Sharp preached the sermon, and a crowded congregation was in attendance.

Dr. Turnbull was with you through the early years of your sacrifice and struggle. To his wisdom and fidelity the efficiency of this church has been in no small measure due. Especially was his influence exerted in directing the sympathies of the church into the great channels of Christian benevolence. After a pastorate of a little less than six years, he resigned, and returned, not to the same church, but to the same city from whence he came. There he still remains. The confidence which he here awakened, and the hold which he had upon your affections, is seen in the fact that at every election, I believe, which the church has held for a pastor, down to the last, some ballots have been cast for Robert Turnbull.

From June, 1845, till March, 1846—a period of nine months—there was a vacancy. During this time, Rev. Dr. Caldicott, then pastor of the Dudley Street Church, Roxbury, was invited here; but he declined the invitation.

Rev. Joseph Banvard, of Salem, was next called to fill the vacancy. He accepted, and was publicly recognized as pastor on the 15th of March, 1846. The sermon was preached by Dr. Sharp.

Mr. Banvard's ministry continued a little over five years and six months, when he removed to West Cambridge.

There followed now the largest vacancy which you have ever had in the pastoral office. It continued for a whole year. At length Rev. A. H. Burlingham, of Owego, N. Y., was invited, and, having removed to Boston, was recognized as your pastor, by public services, on the 31st of October, 1852. Again the sermon was preached by Dr. Sharp; and thus this venerated man of God no less than three times performed this service for you.

Dr. Burlingham remained here just four years, when he accepted an invitation to New York.

In December, 1856, Rev. D. C. Eddy, of Lowell, was chosen pastor. His recognition, as such, took place December 28th, 1856, when the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Stow.

Dr. Eddy resigned in October, 1862, and removed to Philadelphia, having occupied this position a little less than six years.

The present pastor was invited from Philadelphia, and commenced his labors with you on Lord's Day, April 26th, 1863. A service of public recognition was held on the evening of the same day, when a sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Hague, who was, at the time, Dr. Sharp's successor.

And thus, through all these years, God has provided for you a living ministry. If by our words you or yours have ever been quickened, comforted, or blest, "Not unto us, not unto us," but unto God's great name be all the glory and the praise.

4. There should be to-day a grateful remembrance of the Revivals you have enjoyed and the Members whom you have received. Few churches have had larger experience of quickening and renewing grace. The early years of your history were years of almost constant revival. Two months from the day the church was recognized five persons were presented as candidates for baptism; and so they have been coming ever since. Not a year has passed without some. Twice the number baptized within a year was as low as three; once it rose to a hundred and ninety-seven. There have been many seasons of revival, but two of them were especially remarkable. The first and greatest was from 1840 to 1842; the second was from 1857 to 1859. In both these instances there was some chaff among the wheat; but much the larger part of the ingathering has proved to be genuine.

The church was constituted with 121 members—43 of whom were males and 78 females. Before any pastor had been obtained 12 were added by baptism. Dr. Turnbull baptized 342; Mr. Banvard 78; Dr. Burlingham 52; Dr. Eddy 225; other persons during pastoral vacancies 14; the present pastor 29—making a total of accessions by baptism of 750. These, together with the original members, and such as have been added by letter and experience, make the total number who have been connected with the church 1,420.

The year before I came here you reported to the Association that the number of your members was 611. Since then the additions have been 70 and the diminutions 97. This, according to the previous report, would leave the present number 584. There is found, however, a remarkable discrepancy between the number of names now on the roll and the published reports. This discrepancy can be accounted for only by a neglect, during the last few years, to deduct from the aggregate the names of some who have been erased and some who have died. No less than 68 should thus have been taken from the roll who were not reported at the time. The present number of members is 516.

Eleven brethren have served in the office of deacon, viz.: Perez Gill, William Keith, Charles T. Hildreth, George Howland, John Hunt, Washington Hobart, Samuel S. Perkins, John Putnam, Ansel Lothrop, William A. Holland, and Gerry W. Cochrane. The five last named fill the office now.

Besides the pastors, ten brethren have, at different times, been connected with the church who have devoted themselves to the work of the Christian ministry. These are Benjamin C. Thomas, who has been for several years a devoted missionary at Henthada, Burmah; Samuel A. Collins, now of Great Falls, N. H.; Charles Newhall, now in Exeter, N. H.; George Dana Boardman, recently settled in Philadelphia; George E. Horr, now of North Orange, N. J.; Thomas V. Sullivan, who was a faithful missionary among the seamen of Boston, but who is now dead; Edwin A. Lecompte, of South Boston; R. B. Moody, of South Braintree; and G. W. Harris, at present in England. Of these, Mr. Thomas only still retains his membership with us. Others, in connection with secular business, have labored as lay-preachers; and thus, through the agency of its members, has this church been sending the healing streams far abroad in almost every direction.

5. The favor which God has shown to the Sabbath-School efforts of this church should also be remembered. The Sabbath-school, in fact, ante-dates the church itself. It was organized when preaching was commenced in Boylston Hall—almost three months before the church was constituted. It has been, from the first, one of the most prosperous schools in Boston. It will not be too high an estimate, perhaps, if we call its yearly average of pupils 400. Now, if we allow five years to be the average length of time that scholars have retained their connection with the school, there must have been not less than 2000 who have here been brought under Sabbath-school instruction. Who shall estimate how many have thus been saved to honor and to virtue—how many have been turned to religion and to life? Several thousands of dollars have been contributed through this agency to different objects of Christian beneficence, and rays of light have gone from here which have gladdened many a home.

The school has always had a corps of faithful teachers, and has from the first been blest with efficient superintendents. Nine brethren—William Keith, T. P. Smith, S. S. Perkins, H. S. Washburn, H. E. Lincoln, John Putnam, S. T. Cushing, B. A. Carter, and G. W. Cochrane—have filled this responsible position. The last named holds the office now; and, except brother Thomas P. Smith, all his predecessors are now living, and were all present at the School's last anniversary.

For most of the time since the organization of the church, a Mission-School has also been sustained, with varying measures of success. It has furnished scope for the activities, especially of the younger members, of the church, and has done its part in promoting the general interest.

6. The Patriotism which this church and congregation have been enabled to exhibit, is a subject for pleasant remembrance and devout thanksgiving to-day. A new phase of human life and effort has been, within the last four years, developed. It is not, perhaps, too much to say that the demands which patriotism has made upon the worshippers in this sanctuary have been fully met. With the first blast of the war-trumpet the ladies of the congregation hastened to their common gathering place and gave themselves to labors for the soldiers. At first they made garments gratuitously for the government; they then furnished a whole regiment with "Havelocks," and also presented a splendid banner to the heroic 13th regiment of Massachusetts, just as it started for the front. Packages and boxes of delicacies and comforts they have sent to the gallant heroes; and this noble work, through the agency of the Christian Commission, they still continue. Many a brave man's heart they have thus made glad, and many hundreds of dollars have been expended in the services.

But men, as well as means, have been demanded; and this congregation has sent its portion. Between ninety and a hundred—almost enough to form a whole company if they had been together—have gone out from here to serve either in the army or the navy in putting down the rebellion. The enlistment of a few has been for a hundred days; others have been engaged one, two, three, and even four years. They have passed through all the vicissitudes of soldier-life. Some of them have languished in hospitals, and some have been tortured in rebel prisons; some have received honorable discharge, while yet in good health; some are diseased for life and crippled; some have perished by sickness, and some have fallen in the heat of battle; but I have yet to learn of the first one of them who has proved a coward or who has done dishonor to the flag! The remembrance of their deeds will be a noble legacy to transmit to coming generations; and we intend to have their names so inscribed that they cannot be forgotten!

Thus at every step of this survey are causes for our thankfulness. How can we refuse to erect a Pillar of Memorial, and inscribe it to the Lord? Through all these years He it is who hath given help, and to his name shall be praises, now and forevermore.
